1. Attached are copies of the front page story on EICHMANN's conversion to Communism as it appeared in the Munich ABENDZEITUNG of 7 December 1961.

2. DRINTERSTEIN gave no explanation for his failure to provide advance warning and stated that there had been no replay within Germany. He believes that the establishment concerning the Egyptian Intelligence Service - thought up by the ABENDZEITUNG unbeknownst to DRINTERSTEIN - and Dr. SERVATIUSS failure to confirm the story were chiefly responsible for the lack of replay. We note that the AP ticker of 8 December carried the ABENDZEITUNG story; however, we have no information whether this was picked up by papers outside of Germany.

3. We believe that comment on this exercise as an example of minimal proof would be superfluous.
