L'Affaire of 7 February 1962 carried an item dated-lined Hamburg (ZII) which read as follows, more or less:
"The official observer of East Germany at the trial of Adolf Hitler, which took place in Jerusalem, Dr. Friedrich Kaul, is nothing other than an agent of the Communist espionage service," according to a statement made in Hamburg by another agent who defected to the West.