1. According to highly sensitive figures prepared for the junta, indicate that a total of 1,920 deaths of civilians and armed forces personnel occurred during the period 11 through 30 September 1973 as the result of the 11 September coup. During this period in Santiago, 22 members of the armed forces and 624 civilians died as a result of military actions. In addition, a total of 240 civilians were either executed by firing squads after summary military trials, or executed on the spot for armed resistance against military forces. During the same period outside of Santiago, a total of eight armed forces members were killed: 46 civilians were killed during military actions and 80 civilians were either executed on the spot or killed by firing squads after military trials. These figures do not reflect the number of Carabineros (uniformed national police) killed during this time period nor do the figures reflect the execution of known criminals and delinquents by the Department of Int.
